(Channeling begins)

Djwhal Khul here. Tashi Delek.

Alright. We have a Fall Equinox upon us. We have many energies occurring in this short kind of time frame including Mercury going direct next week. So what I want to work upon right now is being in the Flow of Creation, and this is an exercise that I gave during the last Seminar in much more detail. That was the Financial Reorganization and Balance seminar if you want to study up on it a little bit more.

We want the Flow of Creation to be running through the consciousness at all times, and truly it does, however there are times when one can perceive that they are separate or they deliberately deflect the energy for a while, while they process something, feel an emotion or maybe even complain a bit about how Creation is going.

So as a powerful co-Creator, as one who is never separate from Creation, it is important to remember that the Oneness is all inclusive, that you and the Creator are one and the same and that others are perhaps also one and the same.

And to expand into that reality there is a very simple technique that can be used of imagining that the universe is coming towards you, flowing directly through your head and out the back. You can work with a visual image of a spaceship jumping to warp speed is a common one, some of the vortex screen savers or others, mandalas sometimes can bring you into that reality as well.

So I would encourage you to feel that flow of Creation that is going right through the head and out the back in a continuous stream, and keep practicing that.

Pardon. The channel was kissing the cat. I do believe we have a few cat hairs flying around and tickling her in some way. The cat involved is Rainbow. It is one of her favorite activities.

Alright then. As always, thank you and my love to you,

Djwhal Khul
