And here is Djwhal Khul's latest Spirituality Article, information complimentary every Thursday:

(Channeling begins)

Djwhal Khul here. Tashi Delek.

Well, we have a very exciting week. Very, very. June 21 marks the thirteenth anniversary of the ushering in of the Three Star One. The Three Star One would be, say, an oversoul to the Universe. A very powerful trinity being brought here to help bring about peace on earth. So you might want to invoke the Three Star One to be a regular part of your life, that would be quite nice.

We have Mercury moving into Leo. We have Saturn going direct in Libra and Venus going direct in Gemini, all before we come to next Thursday's Spirituality Article.

It means basically that things are shaking down. Last week I talked about Calling Forth the Good in All. Continue to do that please and then, really the best way to get through this time period is to be as light hearted and playful as possible. Venus energy should help you do that.

To think of this as a bumpy ride and you're on maybe something with really good shocks so that you're just sort of bouncing along a little bit and everything is going to be okay after you get through the little bit of the bumpy part.

Also note that if things aren't going quite right, what you want to do is just stop, let the energy out, and then either start over or leave that and do something else. So it could be something, you know you're trying to open a door and it's not quite opening right, instead of just forcing it open, stop, breathe, relax, maybe then see if you can just see where it's catching or just ask someone else if they could please get the door to open. That sort of thing.

So there'll be these little kind of hot, itchy, angry moments arising and do your best to handle them as spiritually as possible. And by that I mean in a non-violent or peaceful way. And forgive yourself if you don't. That's also quite important.

Alright dear Ones. As always, thank you and my love to you,

Djwhal Khul
