(Channeling begins)

Djwhal Khul here. Tashi Delek.

Alright, let’s begin please with a golden white light coming in through the crown chakra, allowing that golden white color to sort of warm the top of the head and allow the energy to just flow down the face, the sides of the head, the back of the head, flowing down the shoulders, just gently warming and relaxing all of the body. And then see it flowing off of the top of the feet, flowing across the land. So we want to see this calming golden white liquid light, just literally flowing all around the body and then flowing across the Earth soothing and calming the energies.

Now for this week’s Spirituality Article, I am going to cover two important things: one would be that this Sunday is numerically, because the year 2007 adds up to a 9, it’s numerically a 9-9-9 and so has a potency to it. It also occurs in a very important sequence of events here and outlining those would be: Friday the seventh, Pluto goes direct; Saturday the eighth, Venus goes direct; and we have 9-9-9 with some other kind of important sequences there. Then we have the tenth, is rather uneventful, but then 9-11, again numerically is a 9-11-9. It is also a new solar eclipse, a very important anniversary date for the world and particularly those involved in 9-11 two [actually six] years ago in the World Trade Center in New York. And then we have some other aspects coming up on the thirteenth but basically we have a very potent sequence of events this particular week.

The energies that I would say to work with, particularly on 9-11, are going to be that of the blue color, Love Wisdom Ray, Second Ray. It is also a Ray of teaching. It is also a Ray or color that the monad will resonate with in most cases or that your soul will be attuned to because Love is the theme of this particular Universe and is therefore the group lesson. So you can focus on Divine Love, void of earthly love or void of dysfunctional love, focusing only on the Divine aspect of Love. That would be one way to kind of hold that energy and do some kind of prayer work. Our group will have a very special call on that day. Those that are on the e-mail list will get a notice of that particular event.

All right then. That will be a free World Service Call taking place at 11:00 am Pacific or Los Angeles time. So stay tuned for that particular notice in writing. It goes out to the e-mail list; those who sign up at www.terrinelyon.com.

All right. Let's work with the vibration next. A kind of soft pink color, maybe a little bit of purple in it too. About the color of pink tourmaline; it kind of has a pink purple, particularly in the gem quality of that color of that gemstone and you could just imagine the entire heart chakra, a beautiful kind of pink violet, or pink purple color, very, very clear, very faceted energy. In other words, very dynamic, it catches lots of light, very multi-dimensional. That is how I want to see the heart chakra right now.

All right everyone. Thank you very much. This has been your Spirituality Article for the week. As always, my love to you.
