(Channeling begins)

Djwhal Khul here. Tashi Delek.

Alright. The article for this particular week is titled "Get a Grip". Now this is a very important time period for a multitude of reasons, mostly getting geared up for the lunar eclipse on December 10.

It's also a good time to be productive, get things done ahead of time. Many things are going to take longer than you would think so allow the flexibility and maybe even postponement if required.

Then I want to say also that getting a grip on your reality is going to be quite important.

Getting a grip on your reality. What is the true financial picture? What is the true health picture? What is the true relationship picture?

And if you don't like what you're seeing on any of those levels change something.

But essentially this is your timetable to get a grip.

As always, thank you and my love to you,

Djwhal Khul
